

Thinking About You

Serena Ryder

There's a lack of concentration
Like a static in my brain
Can I ask you for your patience
If I seem a little strange?
There's a spider in the corner
Spinning out a pretty web
There's a name written on my shoulder
That I'm trying to forget

I'm just moving in time
To the rhythm of life
Stepping left, stepping right
Because

Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you

You've got genuine ambitions
And an ocean in your eyes
That only I can swim in
When you're angry you're still kind
You don't need it to be easy
And you always make me laugh
And you know just how to read me
From the front page to the back

I'm like who makes me smile
Wanna give it a try
Wonder why, I know why
Because

Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you

Always on my mind
From morning light to darkest night
Always all my life
Forever is a long, long time
But baby I'll be

Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you got me in a good mood
Thinking about you got me feeling good
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you, I, I'm
Thinking about you
