

Wolves

Serena Ryder

I took the scissors to my bangs this morning
So I could see you more clearly, my darling
But that's just one of the thirty thousands things I do
To get a better look at you

I had somebody to come wash my windows
So I could watch you walking like the wind blows
I want to stop and ask you where you got them shoes
To get a better look at

Where you came from Where you've been
The stars in your eyes
Tales you spin
The Frank Sinatra heroine
From songs you heard in Old Berlin

Oh, oh, oh
Let's be lovers and never go home
We'll live in the highlands and run with the wolves
Deep in the forest where nobody goes
No one would have us, we'll run with the wolves
Singing, ah-ooh
Singing, ah-ooh

Although I'll never know some things about you
True love a mystery so I don't want to
And when I'm old I'll clean my glasses to see through
To get a better look at

Smile lines around your eyes
You'll talk too loud, and then you'll shine
That dance song that made you cry
The night you spent in Edelweiss

Oh, oh, oh
Let's be lovers and never go home
We'll live in the highlands and run with the wolves
Deep in the forest where nobody goes
No one would have us, we'll run with the wolves
Singing, ah-ooh
Singing, ah-ooh

You got a way with words
Let's break away from the herd
And run away from the world
Away from it

Oh, oh, oh
Let's be lovers and never go home
We'll live in the highlands and run with the wolves
Deep in the forest where nobody goes
No one would have us, we'll run with the wolves
Singing, ah-ooh
Singing, ah-ooh

Oh, oh, oh

Let's be lovers and never go home
We'll live in the highlands and run with the wolves
Deep in the forest where nobody goes
No one would have us, we'll run with the wolves
Singing, ah-ooh
Singing, ah-ooh
