

Symphony for the Quiet

Serenity

My notes in the void, Symphony For The Quiet Music is fading, my sanity with it

Muted is life When I open the window, I can't catch a sound, can they hear me?

Twilight in my heart, When all noises die with sorrow But I still can hear the piano in my mind

I play for my soul Harmonies of the past Chase all the shadows away At my dismay No major chord can last When choirs of fates deafen me

I sense a distance Am I too far away? Silence is closing all the lips on my way

Twilight in my heart, When all noises die with sorrow But I still can feel the piano on the ground

I play for my soul Harmonies of the past Chase all the shadows away At my dismay No major chord can last When choirs of fates
deafen me

I play for my soul Harmonies of the past Chase all the shadows away At my dismay No major chord can last When choirs of fates
deafen me

I play for my soul Harmonies of the past Chase all the shadows away At my dismay No major chord can last When choirs of fates
deafen me

I play for my soul Harmonies of the past Chase all the shadows away At my dismay No major chord can last When choirs of fates
deafen me
