

Emotions

Sergey Lazarev (Сергей Лазарев)

Three words, eight letters
I've said them everyday since I met ya
But lately I've felt empty inside

I know that I wanna be with ya
It hurts just to think of life without ya
But sometimes it just don't feel right

I try to walk away and I stumble down
This love goes up, left and back around
And everyday, in every way
I want you now
I fell from like to dislike, in love in one night
Then I fell for you
What can I do?
The only one to stop me crying, cursed me too
They say that love keeps our lives in motion
Okay but first I've got to learn
To deal with emotions

Sunset or sunrise
My heart, my soul and my mind
They'll be forever yours

Are you mine, mine truly?
Am I blind? You used me
Or is that insecurity?

I try to walk away and I stumble down
And everyday, in every way
I want you now
I fell from like to dislike, in love in one night
Then I fell for you
What can I do?
The only one to stop me crying, cursed me too
They say that love keeps our lives in motion
Okay but first I've got to learn
To deal with emotions

I hate being told how I should feel
I wanna just tell you what is real
I don't want to doubt ya
I can't be without ya
So, tell me you're in love
There's no one, there's just us
You want, you want this too

I fell from like to dislike, in love in one night
Then I fell for you
What can I do?
The only one to stop me crying, cursed me too
They say that love keeps our lives in motion
Okay but first I've got to learn
To deal with emotions
To deal with emotions
Ta ah ah ah ah
