

Arres

Serhat Durmus

Baggage and damage
Could only hold me down
Under all the weight, yeah yeah
Fact is the catch is
I had to let it out
For you to take its place, oh

But I still spend some nights
Worried I'll spend my life
All alone afraid to move
Afraid that I'm expendable, mmh

But even if we both had nothing
Empty pockets, empty stomachs
I would still know what enough is
Baby, I can finally breathe
Baby, I can finally breathe

Last year was all tears
I couldn't tell me why
Even if I tried, ooh
'Cause my thoughts, they're too strong
Until you showed me where
To find my peace of mind, yeahe

Written in neon lights
Done with those one-way signs
You got me where you want me to
You you got me through, the terrible, oh
But I still spend some nights
Worried I'll spend my life
All alone afraid to move
Afraid that I'm expendable, oh

But even if we both had nothing
Empty pockets empty stomachs
I would still know what enough is
Baby, I can finally breathe
Baby, I can finally breathe
