

My Feelings

Serhat Durmus

Wake up with your voice inside my head
I'm sleeping on your side of the bed
It don't feel like you're gone
I'm falling to pieces, wondering
Why we didn't stop us shattering
Before it all came undone

If the tears didn't fall and my heart didn't break
If the night would've gone my way
You'd still be here, still be here
If I picked up your call when you begged me to stay
If your love didn't ricochet
You'd still be here, right here
Still be here

Your things in the same place that you left
Nothing fills the empty in my chest
It ain't beating like before
Play all of the fights over again
All we could've said and done different
It leaves me here hurting more

If the tears didn't fall and my heart didn't break
If the night would've gone my way
You'd still be here, still be here
If I picked up your call when you begged me to stay
If your love didn't ricochet
You'd still be here, right here
Still be here

You'd still be here
