

Looking for the perfect shot
Putting on her one lascivious smile
Nothing but some underwear
Showing all her deep devotion
Now Suzie's looking 10 years older
She is just a 13 year old child
No matter what her father told her
She's selling out her whole emotion

This life seems real
No limits there to see
Live how you feel
And I don't care what you tell me

Leave all your life and forget where you came from
Turnin' your back on society
Enter the beautiful world we create
Live your virtual reality
Reality

Staring at this crazy world
Bobby wants a better place to be
His family's voices fade away
As he's getting all this new connection
It feels like taken out of prison
In a world of truly being free
This life has got a worthy reason
With being shown the right direction

This life seems real
No limits there to see
Live how you feel
And I don't care what you tell me

Leave all your life and forget where you came from
Turnin' your back on society
Enter the beautiful world we create
Live your virtual reality
We know what you want and we serve it kindly
Painted with all our sympathy
Turn off your mind as we welcome you
To virtual reality

Your road is tight
You stand the hate or you will find
Your suicide

Leave all your life and forget where you came from
Turnin' your back on society
Enter the beautiful world we create
Live your virtual reality
We know what you want and we serve it kindly
Painted with all our symphony
Turn off your mind as we welcome you
To virtual insanity
Reality
