

I followed his scent all the way here
I can tell he loves deeply just by the fog he leaves in the air
Already I need him
Someday I'll plant seeds with him

He knows love can't exist where there is cologne
He knows love can't exist where there is cologne
Where there is cologne

I see them laughing as they're lost in your bouquet
They should enjoy this now
'Cause I'll turn your musk into a star someday
Already I need you
Someday I'll plant seeds with you (you, you)

He knows love can't exist where there is cologne (He knows)
He knows love can't exist where there is cologne (He knows)
He knows I can't fall in love if he's wearing cologne
Oh

I thank the breeze that wafted across my soul
I know your scent will be the centerpiece in my home
Already I need you
Someday I'll plant seeds with you
