

Midnight Thoughts

Set It Off

Here I am, 12AM
Sunk in deep to my bed
Kept alive by the light of the moon
Close my eyes, but my mind
Got its own plan tonight
And it keeps rubbing salt in the wound

I know it's too late, as night turns to day
Now there's no escaping the ghosts

I can't shake these midnight thoughts when I'm alone
Latching to my brain and never letting go
So I start making friends with the noise in my head
And all these midnight thoughts when I'm alone

Oooh, oooh

Dim the lights, shut the blinds
But I'm counting the time
Am I nervous or am I insane?
Try to turn up the sound
But I can't shut it out
Cause I'm hearing the pulse in my veins

I know it's too late, as night turns to day
Now there's no escaping the ghosts

Cause I can't shake these midnight thoughts when I'm alone
Latching to my brain and never letting go
So I start making friends with the noise in my head
And all these midnight thoughts when I'm alone

Oooh, oooh, oooh, oooh
(Cause I can't shake these midnight thoughts when I'm alone)

I know it's too late, as night turns to day
Now there's no escaping the ghosts

Cause I can't shake these midnight thoughts when I'm alone
Latching to my brain and never letting go
So I start making friends with the noise in my head
And all these midnight thoughts when I'm alone

Oooh, oooh, oooh, oooh

So I start making friends with the noise in my head
And all these midnight thoughts when I'm alone
With all these midnight thoughts when I'm alone
