

One Single Second

Set It Off

Try to trace it to back when it started
To the moment we lost what we were
When "I love you too" sounded so heartless (so heartless)
When your kiss almost felt like a curse

Now your phones going off in the dead of the night
So defensive when I ask why
I've seen every red flag that you planted
As you bury our love in a lie

I'm confidently insecure about us now

'Cause I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second
Found out that your truths
Come one in a million, come one in a million
Yeah I gotta go where my heart lies
And you wanna go with a lie
And I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second at all

No, no
For one single second
No, no
For one single second

I guess Faithful's your new favorite F-word
But the U and the N you forgot
And I gave you the world at your doorstep
But you five minutes fling wandered off

And the look on your face is a dead giveaway
When I ask you are we okay
And you smile and you say "never better"
With an undertone note "no, we're not"

I'm confidently insecure about us now

'Cause I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second
Found out that your truths
Come one in a million, come one in a million
Yeah I gotta go where my heart lies
And you wanna go with a lie
And I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second at all

No, no
For one single second
No, no
For one single second

'Cause I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second
Found out that your truths
Come one in a million, come one in a million
Yeah I gotta go where my heart lies

And you wanna go with a lie
And I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second
Found out that your truths
Come one in a million, come one in a million
Yeah I gotta go where my heart lies
And you wanna go with a lie
And I don't believe you
For one single second, for one single second at all

No, no
For one single second
No, no
For one single second
