

The Truth About Lying

Set It Off

The truth about lying
It digs you so deep that you can't escape
You better get used to losing those you love
To lay in a lonely grave
The truth about lying

Sent text, here's the temperature check
There is a burning need to see if we're good
I'm gonna clean scars when you tore us apart
Convinced yourself that you could play us for fools

I know, I know
Who you are behind the smoke
Lost soul, come close
I'll show you what the mirror won't

The truth about lying
It digs you so deep that you can't escape
You better get used to losing those you love
To lay in a lonely grave

The truth about lying
It always will catch up eventually
So go ahead, run and hide and save your life
Your fate isn't gonna change
The truth about lying

A lot of half truths never add up to much
So they subtract the good things to make an excuse
It only takes one so that you can't get enough
You're the smartest person in every room

I know, I know
Who you are behind the smoke
Lost soul, come close
I'll show you what the mirror won't

The truth about lying
It digs you so deep that you can't escape
You better get used to losing those you love
To lay in a lonely grave

The truth about lying
It always will catch up eventually
So go ahead and run and hide to save your life
Your fate isn't gonna change
The truth about lying

The truth about lying

Oh, oh, oh

I know, I know
Who you are behind the smoke
Lost soul, come close
I'll show you what the mirror won't (I lie to hide, I lie to hide)
(I lie to hide, I lie to hide)

(I lie to hide, I lie to hide)
(I lie to hide, I lie to hide)

The truth about lying
It digs you so deep that you can't escape
You better get used to losing those you love
To lay in a lonely grave
The truth about lying
It always will catch up eventually
So go ahead and run and hide to save your life
Your fate isn't gonna change
The truth about lying

Yeah, the truth about lying

Oh, oh, oh

The truth about lying
