

A Silent Remedy

Seven Kingdoms

Looking upon us all
Far away, conscious minds
They see all

Disgusted they wait
Hopeful, better days
But it never comes!

It may be a while...
They have a long way to go...
They look to the stars
With all of their hearts and their souls

Something precious in the rough
Cut from the darkest days
They have paid

Universal energy
Singularity
In the abyss above

In their midnight hour
We will make ourselves known
Or maybe not at all
They look to the stars
with all of their hearts and their souls

Woah oh, the time will come and go
A Silent Remedy is all you need to know
Always to blame, never ashamed
Fuel for the flame!
Fuel for the flame!

Woah oh, the time will come and go
A Silent Remedy is all you need to know
Always to blame, never ashamed
Always to blame, never ashamed
Fuel for the flame!
