

Start Again

Seven Lions

I'll go, don't wait for my return
You should stay here, safe where you belong
Although, now I can't find the words
You believe, oh tell me I was wrong

This is how it ends
I will leave you different than before
This is how it ends
You have changed me more than you can know

The cold breeze between us
Falling at our feet
For all we could be then
You left me incomplete
And time is not on our side
Another day won't stand the tide
And I can't wait till you decide

As we face down the end
Rise and start again
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
Rise and start again

As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end

Time is not on our side
Another day won't stand the tide
And I can't wait till you decide

As we face down the end
Rise and start again
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
Rise and start again

As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end
As we face down the end

As we face down the end
As we face down the end
Rise and start again
