

Into Your Heart

Seven Places

Your hands held up the world
Your heart bled on a hill
And now there's no resistance
And I want to go where there's no resistance
I want to go into Your heart, I start to see
Where there's just You and there's no me
So into Your heart is where I'll be, into Your heart
He drew the world and colored it red
With the blood of His Son
And the words that he said
And now there's no resistance
And I want to go where there's no resistance
I want to go into Your heart, I start to see
Where there's just you and there's no me
So into Your heart is where I'll be, into Your heart
I'm not here anymore, I'm leaving the ground
Now there's no resistance
