

Evil Within

Seven Thorns

Let fairytales begin
Sweet virtue against sin
A beast that the beauty has woken
You never tried to run
But cried for my crimes
And toiled for my curse to be broken

As part of me died
A newborn desire for blood serves to sharpen my senses

How can I protect you
When I can't deny who I've become?
Deep inside, there's darkness in my mind
A treacherous greed - my evil within

Don't lie to yourself, there is no redress
I won't see the sunlight again
The need for your love
A kiss of eternity a passion you ne'er can abandon

As part of me died
A newborn desire for blood serves to sharpen my senses

How can I protect you
When I can't deny who I've become?
Deep inside, there's darkness in my mind
A treacherous greed - my evil within

Deep inside
In the darkness in my mind
That's where you will end - happy-ever-after in my hell
