

Night of Temptation

Seven Thorns

Out in the distance
I hear the angry mob.

The will burn me alive.
The bloodhounds sense me,
they're hunting through the dark.
One mistake and I'm gone.

They did warn me:
"If you touch her, you die."
Now I'm running for my life.

I saw her smiling.
Her smile lit up the room.
She went straight to my heart.
But she was taken
Belonged to someone else
I could not hold her hand

Late that night I penetrated her room.
It was the best night of my life.

Hide my soul away in a distant mind
Far away in a distant grip
Must resist the heat that I felt that night
If I want to stay alive

If I want to-
I will return to lie in her arms tonight.
Feel her warmth, pretend that she's mine.
Can't resist the heat that I feel inside,
if I want to live, if I want to feel,
give my life for one more night with her
One more night alive
