

Well the truth is out, the voice fade
No reaching out, no safe escape
You don't seem broken up
That killer spirit won
We play it out, we choose our fade
Our time runs out, we lose that race
It really burns you up
You think this was enough
Why do we care, it if end here
Why live the lie anymore

Run away like fire, crash and burning out
Its too hard to let it go
Can you read my mind if I scream inside
Who's the hero now if I'm so criminal?

You have my word but lost your faith
The changes come but way too late
I wish we know enough to have a sense of worth
Disgrace will burn our eyes wont see
The cruelest parts they cut so deep
But nothing shuts up, you'd think we've had enough
Why do we care, it if end here
Why live the lie anymore

Run away like fire, crash and burning out
Its too hard to let it go
Can you read my mind if I scream inside
Who's the hero now if I'm so criminal?

You cut a man down, tell me now what have I done.
Let it all out but you don't hear a think at all
