

Here With You

Seventh Day Slumber

Well I've been beat and I've been laughed at
And I've been dragged through streets of pain
And I've had people turn their backs on me
And I have been called every name

And I felt loneliness and hunger
I felt helpless and betrayed
So many hurtful things you've done to me
But my love will never change
Forever the same

You drove the nails through my hands
I never gave up on you
You placed the thorns on my head
But I'm right here with you
I'm here with you

Well I took the sting of torture
So you wouldn't feel the pain
Well I was nailed upon a cross for you
And I'd do it all again

You drove the nails through my hands
I never gave up on you
You placed the thorns on my head
But I'm right here with you
I'm here with you

Run to me, put down your heavy burden
Turn your eyes on me, I won't look away
Cause nothing you have done
Is greater than the power of the Blood
Is greater than the power of the Son
Remember that I am for the ones who

Drove the nails through my hands
I never gave up on you
You placed the thorns on my head
But I'm right here with you
I'm here with you
