

Into The Fire

Seventh Day Slumber

It's getting harder to see
Beyond this deadly disease
Oh I'm fading from the poison inside
Suffocating again
The story never ends
I pray to God I make it back this time

Falling into the fire has never felt so real
Can't escape from the madness, my padded cell
Bleeding it from these open wounds
The pain is still alive

Looking over the edge
How many times I've begged
For this to be my final breath
I'll keep praying for strength
Until tomorrow breaks

Falling into the fire has never felt so real
Can't escape from the madness, my padded cell
Bleeding it from these open wounds
The pain is still alive

The blame is on me
I swear I can change
I know you've heard this before
Don't give up on me
Just one more attempt
To show you unreal
Things won't be the same

Falling into the fire has never felt so real...

Falling into the fire has never felt so real
Can't escape from the madness, my putrid cell
Bleeding it from these open wounds
