

Still Breathing

Seventh Day Slumber

It's on the edge of a breakdown
Just a step away
At the end, on my way out
To throw it all away
One pill at a time I take
To show them what they've made
They'll be happy when I'm gone

I felt so lost
I felt so cold
My heart was breaking
Losing control

Breathing
You're keeping me alive
My heart's still beating
You brought me back to life
And you saved me
I was running out of breath
Begging for your help
I'm breathing

So many times that I wonder
Why am I even here?
All I needed was an answer
A sign, you even care
One breath at a time I take
To push through another day
They'll be happy when I'm gone

Holy Spirit, I'm
Holding on for too long
Like a burning fire
Overtake me

Breathing
You're keeping me alive
My heart's still beating
You brought me back to life
And you saved me
I was running out of breath
Begging for your help
I'm breathing

I felt so lost
I felt so cold
My heart was breaking
Losing control

Breathing
You're keeping me alive
My heart's still beating
You brought me back to life
And you saved me

I'm breathing
My heart's still beating
You brought me back to life
And you saved me
Begging for your help
I'm breathing
