

Would She Know?

Sezairi

Every day I walk the street
To meet Sarah
And she is waiting
Here for me

We take a bus ride through the bay
I'll buy ice cream for the day
And she'll be smiling
Back at me

But each day I look at her
This little girl is changing my world
And I know
Oh, I know

A little part of me is getting weak
My heart is pounding and I'm losing sleep
Does she know
Would she know

That I'm crazy about her
But she'll never know
How I feel inside
I just can't hide it anymore
Today I will face my fear
And I will say those words
Would she be happy

If I'm crazy about her
But she'll never know
How I feel inside
I just can't hide it anymore
Today I will face my fear
And I will say those words
Would she be happy if she knows
Would she know
If she know

The moonlight shines
We're headed home to Sarah's
Should I be making
My move today

She looks at me as she closed her doors
The big three words crumbles to the floor
I'm just left waving
She smiles at me

But each day I look at her
This little girl is changing my world
And I know

A little part of me is getting weak

That I'm crazy about her
How I feel inside
Today I will face my fear
And I will say those words

If I'm crazy about her
How I feel inside
Today I will face my fear
And I will say those words
Would she be happy if she know
If she know
If she know

And I'm crazy about her
How I feel inside
Today I will face my fear
And I will say those words
Would she be happy if she know
If she know
Would she know
If she know

If she know
If she know
