So never say never say goodbye
Never say never say goodbye

Never say goodbye

I saw the goodbye welled up in your pretty eyes
So I'm turning my head away
You don't say goodbye my love
Never say goodbye my love
You were so clear like glass
But with those broken and sharp words, you pierced me
Don't you say goodbye
Never say goodbye

The day I first laid on your lap
It was so warm and dazzling
That day is still so clear
So I can't let you go
Don't you see me

You're ahead of me and in the fog baby
But why am I still here
Stopped in place, getting farther away?
Rain is falling, wetting my hands
Even taking away the scent
No never say never say goodbye
No never say never say goodbye

My lone shadow under the lights
It gets thicker and I can't see the end
When I'm standing here alone
Never, feels like I'm all alone in the world
Under these blankets that are colder than winter
I hate you so much that my heart rips
But I need you right now

I'm turning back the clock that's already broken
I try watering my dried up heart
But now I'm only locked up in regret
Mysterious emotions keep repeating

Sometimes, when it felt like we were breaking up
You asked me to hold onto you
But now your cold eyes are rejecting me

You're ahead of me and in the fog baby
But why am I still here
Stopped in place, getting farther away?
Rain is falling, wetting my hands
Even taking away the scent
No never say never say goodbye
No never say never say goodbye

Like a dream like a dream

(Like a dream you fade away)
Like a dream like a dream
(Like a dream so far away)
In a place where I can't reach
You've spread your wings, oh yeah baby

I want to hold out my hands and grab you baby
But I'm still here
I'll let you go (without you my love)
I'll let you go (let you go baby)

As much as it hurt, the memories are so clear
They were forever remain, deep in my heart
So never say never say goodbye
Never say never say goodbye

Never say goodbye
