

How It Feels

Shakra

I know taht it's a long ago; I've tried to find a way...
I still can't believe what you've done
Now I know that I'm off the track, opened up my eyes
I don't know why I should thake the blame

What is the reason you left it all behind
Only your true words can ease my pain inside

Tell me how it feels to be on your own at night
Can you ever close your eyes again?
Tell me how it feels awake, knowing you're not right?
Yeah I guess that you just wouldn't show!.. You just wouldn't s how...

You'll see in a little while your blue-eyed charm is gone
And there will be no one left around

What is the reason for telling all these lies?
You cannot imagine what you compromise!

Tell me how it feels to be on your own at night
Can you ever close your eyes again?
Tell me how it feels awake, knowing you're not right?
Yeah I guess that you just wouldn't show!

Baby I just wonder why you're still in my heart
You filled my life with sadness, but you'll always be a part, f orever and ever!

Tell me how it feels to be on your own at night
Can you ever close your eyes again?
Tell me how it feels awake, knowing you're not right?
Yeah I guess that you just wouldn't show!.. You just wouldn't s how...

'Cause I know how it fells to be on my own at night
I will never close my eyes again!
I know how it feels awake knowing you're not right!
And I wish you'd feel the way I do!
