

Invincible

Shakra

You've lost all sensation
Been left out in the rain
No imagination
And you feel hit again

But when you start believing
Don't sink in darkness again
And all your worries are leaving
And you can break the chain

Set yourself free, there is so much to see

You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain
You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain

No one imagines
What is deep down inside
Hold on to your passions
And lay your doubts aside

Satisfy your desires
Which were always denied
Just like a phoenix from fire
On your face there is pride

Set your mind free, there is so much to be

You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain
You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain
You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain
You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
It happens in your brain

Set your mind free, there is so much to be

You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
You are invincible

You are invincible
You are invincible
You are invincible
You are invincible
You are invincible
It's running through your veins
Rise up, defeat your pains
You are invincible
You are invincible
It happens in your brain
You are invincible
You are invincible

Invincible...
