

The Storm

Shakra

Nights in the dark alleys
Where she goes down
Don't wanna be aware
I'll be around
Out on the dirty streets
I break the rule
No one can stop me now
Poor silly fool

What have I done?
How did you know?

Now all the bloody lies
Are burning in the skies
But everything is shuttered for the storm
Now all unspoken dreams
Are further than they seemed
And everything is broken by the storm

I met her in a bar
Without a doubt
I carried things too far
There's no way out
Beyond a starlit sky
She took it all
Thought I could feel so high
Dismissed your call

What have I done?
How did you know?

Now all the bloody lies
Are burning in the skies
But everything is shuttered for the storm
Now all unspoken dreams
Are further than they seemed
And everything is broken by the storm
By the storm

Now all the bloody lies
Are burning in the skies
But everything is shuttered for the storm
Now all unspoken dreams
Are further than they seemed
And everything is broken by the storm

Now all the bloody lies
Are burning in the skies
But everything is shuttered for the storm
Now all unspoken dreams
Are further than they seemed
And everything is broken by the storm
By the storm
