

I don't want to show my feelings
'Cause I want to tuck my soul away
And all the support you've been giving me
It's all swept up and thrown away
I don't care what you think of me
I don't care if you come around
All the shit you've been giving me
Will you wake up to reality?

And I can't take this pain
Staring inside my brain
And I can't be ashamed
'Cause you wanted me this way

It consumes every inch of me
Eating me inside
A parasite inside my veins
When I have nothing left to gain
I'll show you passion
I'll show you anger
You'll spark a reaction
When you point your finger right at me

And I can't take this pain
Staring inside my brain
And I can't be ashamed
'Cause your eyes are upon me
And all I want is for you to see that
I can tear you apart
As I walk away
But you still say you care

And I can't take this pain
Staring inside my brain
And I can't be ashamed
'Cause your eyes are upon me
And all I want is for you to see that
I can tear you apart
But would you even notice
Until I walk away?
When I walk away
Why would you tear me apart?
So watch me walk away
