Just Because

Shawn James

I've been running free while you've been locked up tight
I seen you on your knees begging for your site Now who I am and who I was Ripped apart by the force of life's claws

Just because you don't know makes you wanna close your eyes and see

Well you've been looking for answers trying to find a way
While I've been neck deep in the unknown pleasantly Raise your glass to the mighty few Who wander on and make it through

Just because you want peace doesn't mean that you'll get it bef ore you die
