

Not Alone

Shawn James

If you feel you're all alone
If you got no place to call home
I can tell you that I've been there
Keep your head up & don't despair

If I could take all of your pain away
I'd throw them in the ocean & let them sink all the way down
If I could end all the wars & murders
I'd bury them so deep that they'd never find a way out the ground

Life will sometimes throw the worst possible pitch but the heart is stronger than what hard times give
I can tell you of all that I've lost
I still feel my misery & scars

If I could take all of your pain away
I'd throw them in the ocean and let them sink all the way down
If I could end all the wars & murders
I'd bury them so deep that they'd never find a way out the ground

Listen close & hear
I want you to let go of your fear
You can find love
Let go of your strife & get what you want in your life

If I could take all of your pain away
I'd throw them in the ocean and let them sink all the way down
If I could end all the wars & murders
I'd bury them so deep that they'd never find a way out the ground
