

Boots Worn Through

James Shayfer

I read a story of a boy
He ran away and he never called home
Lately, I'm told that he's happy alone
And he makes a good living digging up bones

I had a dream of me and you
We lived the life of the fanciful few
Carving out canyons and painting them blue
I had a dream of me and you

We're gonna walk until our boots wear through
We've miles to go and there's much to do
Every good story begins with an end, so
We're gonna walk until we, until we start again

I read the story of a girl
It wasn't the height she was rising to climb
She climbed her way up to the top of the sky
And that's where she lives, and she will 'til she dies

You were a goddess in my dream
We lived the life of a king and queen
Riding our rivers and painting them green
You were a goddess in my dream

We're gonna walk until our boots wear through
We've miles to go and there's much to do
Every good story begins with an end, so
We're gonna walk until we, until we start again

Wherever we go
They'll never be able to follow
Wherever we go-oo-o

Wherever we go
They'll never be able to follow
Wherever we go-oo-oo-oo

We're gonna walk until our boots wear through
We've miles to go and there's much to do
Every good story begins with an end, so
We're gonna walk until we, until we start again
We're gonna walk until, until we start again
