

First Date

James Shayfer

My first kiss was in a cemetery, my first drink was in a church
My first father was a mercenary, and my first lover was a curse
My first enemy became a friend to me, for what it's worth
My first kiss was in a cemetery, and my first drink was in a church

Tell me your story and I'll tell you mine
I think we will get along fine
Tell me your riddle, I'll tell you my rhyme
I think we will get along

My first battle was a massacre, my first friend was a ghost
My first memory is ordinary, and my first crush was the most
My first betrayal was willing and able, for what it's worth
My first battle was a massacre, and my first friend was a ghost

Tell me your story and I'll tell you mine
I think we will get along fine
Tell me your riddle, I'll tell you my rhyme
I think we will get along fine

And if the rules change, don't hesitate to say
You've had enough of me
And if the rules change, don't hesitate to say
You've had enough of me

Tell me your story and I'll tell you mine
I think we will get along fine
Tell me your riddle, I'll tell you my rhyme
I think we will get along fine

Tell me your story and I'll tell you mine
I think we will get along fine
Tell me your riddle, I'll tell you my rhyme
I think we will get along fine