

Lighthouse Keeper

James Shayfer

I think I'll be a lighthouse keeper
I can't imagine a life much sweeter than that
I've got a magical knack
For guiding other people home
And I've never met a storm
I couldn't whether alone
I think I'll be a lighthouse keeper

What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to shine a light
If you could learn to ring a bell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell

I think I'll be a traveling preacher (ooh)
I can't imagine a life much sweeter than that (ooh)
You wouldn't need a valid reason
To believe in what I say
And if I ever need forgiving
I'll just go my merry way
I think I'll be a traveling preacher

What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to go to heaven if you learn to go to hell (oh)
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell

What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to shine a light
If you could learn to ring a bell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell

I think I'll be a lighthouse keeper
Yeah, I think I'll be a traveling preacher

Oh, what could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to shine a light
If you could learn to ring a bell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell

What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to go to heaven if you learn to go to hell (oh)
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell

And I could learn to go to heaven if you learn to go to hell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
And I could learn to shine a light
If you could learn to ring a bell
What could go wrong? I'll have a story to tell
