Shed Seven

(from Cry For Help CD1)

I'm not the man you're thinking of I'm just convenient because I'm still too young to stay quiet

Your rhyme you learnt won't bring you luck
'Cause all the bad you think you took is only hidden away, love

And the last I saw you laughing
Really mounted up to nothing

I get ideas
They come in flashes
Too far apart to catch the eye
And it's all coming back
Back in patches
You notice why
Why?

I'm not the man you thought I was You're just imagining because, easy way out 'til you feel love

You find me on the ropes again
'Cause I'm too tired to try and mend you if you don't wanna be mended

And the last I saw you laughing
Really mounted up to nothing

I get ideas
They come in flashes
Too far apart to catch the eye
And it's all coming back
Back in patches
You notice why
Why?

'Cause I'm too tired to try and mend you
And, I'm too tired to try and mend you Mend your sight

I get ideas
They come in flashes
Too far apart to catch the eye
And it's all coming back
Back in patches
You notice why
Why?

And it's all coming back
Back in flashes
Too far apart to catch the eye
And it's all coming back
Back in patches

You notice why
Why?
