

Love Me Tomorrow

Sheppard

Can I come up for air?
I'm diving too deep into you
I'm so unprepared for all the things I feel for you

Even though it feels like a dream I'm living
Every fairy tale has a prince and a villain
Just say you'll catch me if I fall

'Cause all of my heart says, "Don't hold back,"
But all of my mind says "It's a trap!"
Whoa, whoa
In the blink of an eye your mind could change
And all of the shine could start to fade
Whoa
Will you love me tomorrow?

I've felt the fire before
And now those scars they stick with me
But I can't ignore the way you seem to click with me

I'm not really sure I can trust this feeling
Can't help but think that it's a lie I'm living
Is this forever, after all?

'Cause all of my heart says, "Don't hold back,"
But all of my mind says "It's a trap!"
Whoa, whoa
In the blink of an eye your mind could change
And all of the shine could start to fade
Whoa
Will you love me tomorrow?

I've always been enough
Had enough with just me
But I love the thought of us
And everything we could be

'Cause all of my heart says, "Don't hold back,"
But all of my mind says "It's a trap!"
Whoa, whoa
In the blink of an eye your mind could change
And all of the shine could start to fade
Whoa, will you love me tomorrow?

Whoa, will you love me tomorrow?
Whoa, will you love me tomorrow?
