

Don't Walk Away

Sheryl Crow

I do a thousand little things
To keep from wondering where you are Still mouth the words, "I love you"
As you drive off in your car
How'd we get from here to there?
I don't know where we're at
All I know is neither one of us
Is the other's better half

Well, I'm swimming in this thing that we call "us"
And I've lost the part of me that you once loved

Seems like no one stays together anymore
It's just too easy to walk out an open door
But I believe that we can make it if we both stay
So please don't walk away

I sit in someone's office couch
And I'll force myself to talk
She'll listen to us litigate
While she keeps one eye on the clock
You'll give a thousand reasons why
You don't think that this can work
All I know is how I feel
Somewhere between my love and hurt

She'll say, "Sometimes love's a work in progress
It's the uncertainty that is the very hardest"

This seems like no one stays together anymore
It's just too easy to walk out an open door
But I believe that we can make it if we both stay
So please don't walk away

Well, I never asked you for forever
I just want you here with me right now

It seems like no one stays together anymore
It's just too easy to walk out an open door
Well, I believe that we can make it if we both stay
So please don't walk away

So please don't walk away
Please don't walk away
