

They hear everything you said
The days of privacy are dead
You've been lead to believe in this fantasy
In a country where freedom's been sold

Five eyes
Looking down

From Waihopai they can spy on you and me
From ECHELON the world's spied on indefinitely

Mars is rising again
Feel free to contact your dictator
Its just men taking their opportunities
Don't complain when your future is gone

Five eyes
Looking down

From Waihopai they can spy on you and me
From ECHELON the world's spied on indefinitely

From Waihopai they can spy on you and me
From ECHELON they world's spied on indefinitely

The days of principles are dead
They smile at your face but fuck you later
We all want to believe in this fantasy
But out freedom is already sold

Five eyes
Looking down

From Waihopai they can spy on you and me
From ECHELON the world's spied on indefinitely
Waihopai, they can spy on you and me
From ECHELON they world's spied on indefinitely
