

Clueless And Dramatic

Shinedown

This social situation gives you anxiety
Poppin' pills to inoculate your sobriety
Anti-social saturation got you empty inside
Like your staring down the barrel of a .45
Bet you might

Another day in the life of the clueless and dramatic
Yeah they keep changing the rules
When the screens never stop and the fear is automatic
What do you do?
What do you do?
Because you think for yourself and you don't need the help
And there's so many friends to lose
Just another day in the life of the clueless and dramatic

They want you to conform but it's not in your nature
They provide the illness that infects your behavior
(And love your neighbor)
As they're raiding all your secrets and invading your thoughts
Trolling your emotions at any cost
Turn it off, turn it off

Another day in the life of the clueless and dramatic
Yeah they keep changing the rules
When the screens never stop and the fear is automatic
What do you do?
What do you do?
Because you think for yourself and you don't need the help
And there's so many friends to lose
Just another day in the life of the clueless and dramatic

And there's so many friends to lose

Turn it off
Save yourself from the clueless and dramatic
Turn it off
Save yourself from the clueless and dramatic
From the clueless and dramatic
From the clueless and dramatic
