

Daylight

Shinedown

I was diagnosed with a fear of getting too close
Had to tell the ones I love, I was on the ropes
I'm not the only one whose life's been pulled apart
Spending one year and three months in the dark

So here we are, all dressed to kill, where should we go?
Into the wild again to face the great unknown
And have the midnight conversations
You and I postponed

You saved my life, not once but twice
You keep me free from falling
You saved my life, make it all alright
When I don't feel like talking
You make sure I always see the daylight

It's amazing what the hard times can reveal
Like who shows up, who walks away, and who's for real
So take me on, I'll take the wheel and we can both outrun the past
We will always live forever if we don't look back

You saved my life, not once but twice
You keep me free from falling
You saved my life, make it all alright
When I don't feel like talking
You make sure I always see the daylight

(Have faith that you're not alone)
(Have faith that you're not on your own)
(Have faith that you're not alone)
(Have faith that you're not on your own)

It's amazing what the hard times can reveal (Have faith that you're not alone)
Like who shows up, who walks away, and who's for real (Have faith that you're not on your own)
It's amazing what the hard times can reveal (Have faith that you're not alone)
Like who shows up, who walks away, and who's for real (Have faith that you're not on your own)
Who shows up, who walks away, and who's for real (Have faith that you're not alone)

You saved my life, not once but twice
You keep me free from falling
You saved my life, make it all alright
When I don't feel like talking

You make sure I always see the daylight
