

Twisted Sisters

Shovels & Rope

A little cloud (A little cloud)
A little rain (A little rain)
A little wind blew (A little wind)
And here they came (And here they came)
Their hips were slender (Their hips were slender)
Their shoulders square (Their shoulders square)
And when they danced (And when they danced)
You'd best beware (You'd best beware)

They had no motive, no warning sign
But they would blow your little mind
Oh mister, mister it's time to go

Oh mister, mister
It's time to go
'Cause twisted sisters
About to roll
Oh daddy, daddy
Get up and ride
'Cause twisted sisters
A mile wide

For sure
Unimaginable loss
Where bums were raised
Cowards were tossed
They tip-toe toward you
They wanna dance
You got no choice, man
You got no chance

So bow your head, close your eyes
Click your heels and say goodbye
Oh mister, mister, she's at the door

Oh mister mister
She's at the door
The sky was black
The rain, it poured
Oh daddy, daddy
Can we still ride?
Oh, I don't think so
Turn out the light
And say goodnight

Say goodnight, say goodnight
Say goodnight, say goodnight
Say goodnight, oh
