

Ringpull

Shura

Think I heard it somewhere
That she drank coke for breakfast
And she was a genius
And like a ringpull when it goes
Like it's a pressure secret
The way the sound releases

So I get up and make my bed
Sky so blue but my head's a mess
And I know you, yeah, you try your best
To keep that big bad world out there
It's such a big bad world out there
There's so much shit, I heard, out there

Wish I was good at letting go
But I'm scared of change
What if you arrive and all I do is change
Staring at the wall
They say it's like the weather
One day you'll find it's better

So I get up and make my bed
Sky so blue but my head's a mess
And I know you, yeah, you try your best
To keep that big bad world out there
So I get up and make my bed
Sky so blue but my head's a mess
And I know you, yeah, you try your best
To keep that big bad world out there

Change, change, change, change
Change, change, change, change
Change, change, change, change
Change, change, change, change