

Still The Same

SHY Martin

Broke it off, built me up
One look and you got me slipping, mm
Got different clothes, changed my lipstick
Still I don't feel that different
You got me reminiscing

The weight of your touch when your fingers danced across my shoulder
The change in your voice when you talked about us getting old
Yeah

I was hoping it'd be different when I saw you but it feels the same
Never changed
I was certain I'd flushed you out my system
But you're printed in my DNA
My heart's pushed into a corner
My brain is out of order
Swear you messing with the time 'cause every time you look at me that way
Nothing's changed

Another time, cross my mind
Second that I get near you
And I almost forgot that you've Seen me naked, I've seen you break things
Know all our imperfections
Things just we never mentioned, yeah yeah

But you never told me that you couldn't handle the pressure
I guess that I noticed how lately you need all attention, mmm

I was hoping it'd be different when I saw you but it feels the same
Never changed
I was certain I'd flushed you out my system
But you're printed in my DNA
My heart's pushed into a corner
My brain is out of order
Swear you messing with the time 'cause every time you look at me that way
Nothing's changed
Nothing's changed

Hoped it'd be different but it feels the same
You left my system, but you're stuck in my DNA
My heart's pushed into a corner, mmm
My brain is out of order

I was hoping it'd be different when I saw you but it feels the same
Never changed
I was certain I'd flushed you out my system
But you're printed in my DNA
My heart's pushed into a corner
My brain is out of order
Swear you messing with the time 'cause every time you look at me that way
Nothing's changed (Mmm)
Nothing's changed (No)
