```
I want to change, to rearrange
What is going on
I need to change, I need to play
Like a five year old
I can't detach from the past and all of the pain
I need to learn, start from scratch begin again
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
So I'm going to eat one hundred sweets
I don't care if I get fat
And I'm going to speak one I won't censor me
I know I can take nothing back
And I'm going to jump I will unburden
I cannot go too deep
I will not run from bad things I've done
They're things I'll try not to repeat
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Welcome to
The church of what's happening now
Head straight through
It costs nothing but change
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
Throw away yesterday
Today is a brand new day
