Siamese

I never thought a man could sink
The heart of a coward will never sleep
I fill my lungs into this beat
With closed eyes we're hoping for remedy

Shattered not broken
We stand our feet
Houses rebuild on
These bloody streets
I fill my lungs into this beat
With closed eyes we're hoping for remedy

And in this world
We're nothing but animals

With blood they paint the broken streets
The houses we build we will never see
They burned the hopes of all the free
The heart of a coward - he was the thief

Shattered not broken
We stand our feet
Houses rebuild on
These bloody streets
I fill my lungs into this beat
With closed eyes we're hoping for remedy

And in this world
We're nothing but animals

It takes a killer
That thinks he's a saint
It takes believing
To be this insane
