

Scratching my back
Scream while looking at me
Locking eyes, flash decision
Turning on the lights to see you
Sweating, always glowing
Are you loving the flesh reaction
Forming the state we're both in

I've already become the root for you and me
To hold the mattress down
Growing around all of the sheets I fold to be Holding the bedroom down
Fed with perspiration

The sheets are now forming a nest for you and me
Holding our bodies sound
Our limbs are now shaping the way they're meant to be
Growing our branches out
Blossoming arousal

Have you been watching as we're bending in the mirror?
Does all the pleasure cause the pain to disappear?
Does it matter if we love?
We have formed our own compound
Have you been watching as we're bending in the mirror?
Does all the pleasure cause the pain to disappear?
Does it matter if we love?
Breathe me whole, breathe me whole

The sheets are now forming a nest for you and me
Holding our bodies sound
Our limbs are now shaping the way they're meant to be
Growing our branches out
I know how you're so adamant on making sound
I know that you're so adamant on being found
Blossoming arousal

Have you been watching as we're bending in the mirror?
Does all the pleasure cause the pain to disappear?
Does it matter if we love?
We have formed our own compound
Have you been watching as we're bending in the mirror?
Does all the pleasure cause the pain to disappear?
Does it matter if we love?
Breathe me whole, breathe me whole

Shifting the tide
Kicking the sofa
You know baby I can't say no
With you in my sight
I'm setting the tempo
God damn I can't say no
We both want to give ourselves tonight
We have formed the perfect shape tonight
We have rooted up this place tonight
