

Omniphobia

Sianvar

Have you ever shared a premonition
Have you ever lived inside a dream
(Watching me, energy, moving me, stays asleep)
Have you ever stayed in one position
Terrified by movement on the sheets

(Moving walls)
It's a cold belief
(Frigid halls)
It's the problem when we believe to see, believe to be the dead
(Moving walls)
It's a cold belief
(Frigid halls)
It's the problem when we believe to see, believe to live again
(What if we could hear them all)

Would they give us answers
Would they try to tell us what the rooms say
To tell us what the walls say
The apparition comes to stay with us
In terrible condition, terrible condition

Have you ever laid in one position
(Any move you make is real)
Realized that you forget to breathe
(Any move you make is real)
Whispers in the wall begin to snarl, begin to talk
We are the problem now
We are the hollow sounds

(Moving walls)
It's a cold belief
(Frigid halls)
It's the problem when we believe to see, believe to be the dead
(Moving walls)
It's a cold belief
(Frigid halls)
It's the problem when we believe to see, believe to live again
(What if we could hear them all)

What's in front of us (on the water)
Moving through the walls (float together)
What's in front of us (on the water)
Moving through the walls (son and father)
What's in front of us (on the water)
Moving through the walls (float together)
What's in front of us (on the water)

What if we could hear them all whisper
Stuck in the wall, shaking the mirror
What if we could hear them all whisper
Stuck in the wall, shaking the mirror

Have you ever seen yourself asleep
Whispers in the wall begin to snarl, begin to talk
We are the problem now
We are the hollow sounds
