

Clueless

Side A

Is it over now?
Or is it just me?
I need to know, how it's gonna be
Is it over now?
Does your silence mean a thing?
And is it really right, to keep me wondering

If it's over now please tell me
I don't wanna read your mind If it's over please stop wasting a ll this time

Coz it's cold outside your window, as I wait for your reply
If you can't provide the truth, then I would settle for some li es
But it's cold outside your window, so I'll try to move along
Just give me a reason, it doesn't matter if it's wrong
You can break my heart and say goodbye, just tell me why
Coz it's cold outside and you will never know, I'll be clueless
when you go

Does it bother you?
Or do you still believe?
That you were right, in asking me to leave
And may I bother you, for a moment to explain
Just to make it clear, that I'm prepared to take the blame

If it's over now please tell me
I don't wanna read your mind
If it's over please stop wasting all this time

Coz it's cold outside your window, as I wait for your reply
If you can't provide the truth, then I would settle for some li
es
But it's cold outside your window, so I'll try to move along
Just give me a reason, it doesn't matter if it's wrong
You can break my heart and say goodbye, just tell me why
Coz it's cold outside and you will never know, I'll be clueless
when you go
