

Let Go Your Troubles

Sidewalk Prophets

Are you fighting with your troubles?
Like a heavyweight champ trying to punch a fly
Does life keep you slipping?
Like some worn-out shoes down a playground slide

You're so afraid that you'll be afraid
You become afraid, afraid again

They see you stumble on your tightrope
Like an elephant dancing on a line of thread
Yeah, you hurry with your head down
You keep moving forward, but you never get ahead

You're so afraid that you'll be afraid
You become afraid, afraid again

Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye

Letting go's not easy
But it'll be ok
No, it's not so easy
It's going to take some faith to

Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye

Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye

Worry never added a day to your life
Worry never added a day
Worry never added a day to your life
Let go your troubles and wave goodbye

Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye

Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
Let go your troubles
And wave goodbye

Yeah, stop all that worrying
Just let go of them troubles, woo!