

8/23

Sidney Gish

Wiser minds
Advise me this
Don't sit and kiss your life goodbye
I exclaim like a sigh
So obvious
Do you think I'm stupid
I'll just go and live a life when I find time

But now it's 8/23
And a worn-out mundane Tuesday is all I'll ever be
So suck it up
Tuesday is enough

One productivity will take a look through history
Will she be writing shows
But Galileo's just spoken in the song
I think we'd get along
We share a preference for astronomy
And scientists like a host

But now it's 8/23
And the chain of stupid tenants might be all I'll ever see
I'll miss your page along with weak rhymes I have made
Until forever it is 8/23
And a worn-out mundane Tuesday is all I'll ever be
So suck it up
Tuesday is enough

But now it's 8/23
And a worn-out mundane Tuesday is all I'll ever be
So suck it up
Tuesday is enough

And now it's turned 24
Just like the hours in a day I wish that I get some more
But love gets stuff and Tuesday's enough
