Misunderstood

Sienna Skies

So tell me how
How many people, have tried to get the better of you?
Told you you'll never amount to one single thing?
Drowned you with a fist full of words that you could never unde rstand?
Told you the mask you wear, just isn't welcome

So sick of being told we're just no fucking good
So sick of proving that we're just no fucking good
So sick of being told we're just no fucking good
Proving the point that you never understood

And I was told, maybe, maybe I'll start a fire
Watch it burning down all of the hatred
Standing among us
Maybe, maybe I'll start a fire
Watch it burning down all of the hatred
Leave no wall standing

You choose to follow that line
The path you're choosing's fucking blowing my mind
Saying it's yours like it was never stolen
Cheats and lies, blaming faith, contorted

Not a day goes by
Where I haven't thought of jumping from the sea to sky
Not a day goes by
Where I haven't thought of jumping from the sea to sky
But we are all sick of flying alone and blind

Alone and blind

And I was told, maybe, maybe I'll start a fire
Watch it burning down all of the hatred
Standing among us
Maybe, maybe I'll start a fire
Watch it burning down all of the hatred
Leave no wall standing

This place is burning in my lungs (Not a day goes by)
The cold takes over and makes me numb (where I haven't thought of jumping from the sea to sky)
This place is burning in my lungs (But we are all sick)
The cold takes over and makes me numb (of flying alone and blin d)
