Broken

Sierra Ferrell

It's another day outside the ocean side
Finding all the treasures in the tides
At the places we would hide
Even all this time, I know that you lied

Don't ya know
That it's easy to be broken
Maybe you should be more soft spoken

With another day, that's come and gone
You're still on my mind
I hope that it's not like this all the time

So it's another day
I'm beside the ocean side
Finding all the treasures in the tides
Oh please, let me call you mine
You know this love thing, it'll make you blind

Cause don't ya know
That it's easy to be broken
Mm, so maybe you should learn to be soft spoken
With another day, that's come and gone
And you're still on my mind
And I hope that it's not like this all the time
