A Driver Saved My Night

Sigrid

Lonely, sitting in a backseat
I'm wishin' this taxi was taking me home
I hate losin' out on Fridays
But I'm on this highway feeling alone

Tears running down my face
'Til he looks back and turns it up all the way

And then I feel, I feel a song holdin' me tight
I think a driver might've saved my night
I feel the words, a voice, dryin' my eyes
I think a driver might've saved my night

(I think a driver might've saved my night)

Listen and the clouds are lifting
I look at me different with every note
Each line sounds like it was read right
Right outta my mind, how do they know?

Tears running down my face
'Til he looks back and turns it up all the way

And then I feel, I feel a song holdin' me tight
I think a driver might've saved my night
I feel the words, a voice, dryin' my eyes
I think a driver might've saved my night

He turned it up and changed my life
(I think a driver might've saved my night)
He turned it up and changed my life
(I think a driver might've saved my night)

A driver savin' me, savin' me
Savin' me, savin' me
Radio savin' me
A driver savin' me, savin' me
Savin' me, savin' me
Radio savin' me

And then I feel, I feel a song holdin' me tight
I think a driver might've saved my night
I feel the words, a voice, dryin' my eyes
I think a driver might've saved my night

I feel, I feel a song (He turned it up and changed my life)
(I think a driver might've saved my night)
I feel the words, a voice (He turned it up and changed my life)
(I think a driver might've saved my night)
